GIANTS WON AFTER LOSING

FIVE KILLED AND MANY HURT WHEN BUILDING FALLS

While Inspectors Are Hurrying Families from Condemned Tenement at Grand and Mott Streets, Place Collapses Burying Many in Ruins.

While an emergency crew from the Building Department was evicting tenants from a condemned three-story tenement at the northwest corner of Grand and Mott streets this afternoon the building collapsed.

Three employees of the Building Department are missing and those who escaped say they are surely dead, buried under tons of brick and debris.

Probably a dozen persons were buried in the cave-in and it is feared several others are dead.

Three members of the Building Department crew—Peter Wall, of No. 1102 First avenue; Joseph Magora, of No. 302 Grand street; and Pasquale Tando, of No. 177 Mulberry street—were badly injured, but managed to work their way out of the ruins unharmed.

The house was a tumble-down three-story structure and was a landmark in the neighborhood. An inspector from the Building Department went through it to-day and pronounced it unfit for human habitation. He said that it was so dangerous it must be vacated immediately.

Families Hurried Out. All of the families but three had evidently removed their effects at 4 o'clock this afternoon and an emergency building department crew of twelve men under Inspector Bowen were helping get out the few scraps of remaining furniture, ready to pull the walls down.

All of the twelve men and some of the dilatory tenants were inside the building. Suddenly the old shack collapsed like a house of sand. The roar was terrific, and a great cloud of dust arose and floated over the tops of the tall tenements in the neighborhood. The scene of the accident is in the heart of Little Italy.

Many Children Hurt. The police learned that several children were killed and many injured. They were found in stories around the neighborhood, some in a very serious state.

Clara Para, seven years old, cannot recover. Her home is at No. 164 Mott street, where she was found with a compound fracture of the skull and a broken arm and foot. She was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, as was the third child, aged five, of No. 154 Mott street, whose right shoulder was fractured.

The girl killed was identified an hour after the accident as Marie Garosi, twelve years old, of No. 164 Mott street, by her mother, who was in the throng that gathered about the office of the newspaper La Polle, where the body was found. Mrs. Garosi went into hysterics when she saw the child's body.

The dead child has been partially identified as a water named Lulu, who was only a few months old. She was found in the basement of the collapsed building, Eugene D'Amico, of No. 31 Seventh avenue, said she had seen her and her brother, who was in the throng that gathered about the office of the newspaper La Polle, where the body was found.

Owner Schuler took charge of the investigation as to the responsibility for the accident. The emergency squad had proceeded in the demolition of the building only as far as the removal of an awning when the place collapsed.

Wrecked in Sound Then Harbored. Mrs. Garosi's body was found in the basement of the collapsed building, Eugene D'Amico, of No. 31 Seventh avenue, said she had seen her and her brother, who was in the throng that gathered about the office of the newspaper La Polle, where the body was found.

Such of the Building Department men as were able to crawl out of the ruins immediately began the work of rescue. The body of a girl was seen close to the front wall under a pile of brick and lumber. It was dragged out by volunteers.

Three other members of the emergency crew were seen to be rescued. One of them was a woman who was seen to be rescued. She was seen to be rescued. She was seen to be rescued.

SHEPHERD BAY RACE TRACK.

Sept. 7.—The card was most ordinary this afternoon. All that saved it from dropping to the level of a Guttenberg card was the presence of some very fast sprinters in the Flight Stakes and a fairly interesting bunch of handicap horses in the last race.

The other races were not attractive, except as spectacles, for the fields were big and were not the kind to tempt the bettor.

The weather was all that could be desired for racing purposes and the track was in condition for record-breaking. The attendance was up to the average.

Mintia Won at Wire. Toots Mook went to the front at the start and made the running, followed by Mintia. Reidmore and with the others close up. In the run through the stretch Mintia closed, and in an exciting finish won by a head. Toots Mook was three lengths in front of Reidmore.

All Dick Roberts. Dick Roberts went to the front of the steeplechase at the start, made all the running and won easily by twenty lengths from Nitrate, which was second all the way. Tract the Mare was third, twenty lengths away.

Flight Stakes a Record. Lady Anella made the running in the Flight Stakes, followed by Buriel. Hamburg Belle trailed in behind these two until near the stretch turn, where D'Arkle took the lead in the last furlong. The mare then came away and won easily by two lengths from Buriel, which was second in length in front of Lady Anella.

Water Grass a Drive. Pretension made the running in the Water Grass, followed by Water Grass. Zienap was second, and Pronda was third, twenty lengths away.

Little Scout a Record. Little Scout made the running in the Little Scout, followed by Sailor Boy. Pronda was second, and Zienap was third, twenty lengths away.

Pronda a Drive. Pronda made the running in the Pronda, followed by Zienap. Water Grass was second, and Mintia was third, twenty lengths away.

Pronda a Drive. Pronda made the running in the Pronda, followed by Zienap. Water Grass was second, and Mintia was third, twenty lengths away.

Pronda a Drive. Pronda made the running in the Pronda, followed by Zienap. Water Grass was second, and Mintia was third, twenty lengths away.

(Special to The Evening World.) POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—McGraw lost the first game to Boston this afternoon and one that he greatly wished to bag. The defeat was due to "Cy" Young's brilliant pitching and a throw to second which Delahanty stood on third.

Breagan shot the ball to nail Cannell stealing, and it was a low throw, but Dahlen was set and it seemed as though he might have held on. The error, however, was credited to Roger.

This scored the only run of the game, and chances were, but for this date, New York would have conquered, as Boston got only two hits of the "Iron Man," while the Giants were on base in every inning but two and rapped Young five times. The hits were scattered, however, and Young was there with the goods at critical stages.

For the second "Cy" Luther Taylor and Matty both warmed up, while McGraw scooped about, with fire in his eye and scattering tobacco.

First Inning. "Batty" smashed the first ball pitched for a single to right. Tenney scribbled to third, unassisted, and reached third on Dolan's out. Devlin to Clark. Delahanty struck out. NO RUNS.

Second Inning. McGraw led off with a single, but was thrown out at first. Tenney, Dolan hit safely to Tenney, who made good speed, but had no chance to score. Breagan, by a fast sprint, beat an infield hit to Batty, and Dolan, by more fast running, made good on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Third Inning. Wolverson was an easy out. Dahlen to Clark, unassisted, and reached first on Tenney's drive. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Tenth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Eleventh Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Twelfth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Thirteenth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Fourteenth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

Fifteenth Inning. Dahlen made a nice running out off Tenney's lead. Strang, slayer drove clear against the left fence, but through rotten coaching was held on first, but he hit as he was at a free pass, filler the bases. Dahlen had a nice chance to score, but he was a hair to Batty, who doubled Breagan, who at second. NO RUNS.

(Special to The Evening World.) AMERICAN LEAGUE BALL GROUND, WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Feeling played over the loss of the first game, the Highlanders went after the second with their dander up. As the second contest started there were more than 6,000 persons on hand to witness the festivities, and the first victory had intoxicated them with enthusiasm.

It was the first victory over New York on the Washington grounds this season, and the staid rooters of the Capital City were frantic for another. Charlie Hickman was the hero of the day, having gotten two singles, two two-baggers and a triple out of five times up in the first inning. Hogs and McGuire hit to deep right for two bases. Goode filed to Stanley. Hahn filed to Anderson and Tenney was out to Elberfeld. Hahn scored, while McGuire singled over second. Tenney filed to Stanley. ONE RUN.

McGuire swung to Casidy sacrificed to center and Stanley scored. Anderson slammed the ball under the scoreboard for a home run, sending Hickman in ahead of him. Hickman walked off, while McGuire, who had singled over second, Tenney filed to Stanley. ONE RUN.
